Rector's Reflections

"Rich toward God"

The largest expense we have in our parish budget is for the staff—seven full-time employees, one part-time employee, and those who come to supply as needed when we have vacations, continuing education or illness. The total staff expense is 64% of our budget. Property and Outreach each total 14%. Only 4% of our budget is for administration. Eleven other programs and ministries account for the remaining 4%.

Jesus and his disciples did not have buildings or property or a staff to maintain. They travelled among villages and towns with "nothing for their journey except a staff: no bread, no bag, no money in their belts..." (Mark 6:8) Yet Jesus shares many teachings about wealth and stewardship.

My two favorite stewardship teachings are Matthew 25:14-30 and Luke 12:13-21. Near the end of his Gospel, Matthew reports on Jesus' teaching in Jerusalem. The parable of the "Talents" is all about using what we have been given and increasing the value of our gifts. "For to all those who have, more will be given, and they will have an abundance..."

When our parish moved from Patrick Street to Russell Road in 1948, we used what had been given, both personal and parish resources, and we have received so much over these last 65 years. While we may not think of our "campus" as reflecting an "abundance," surely we have a most wonderful facility for worship, education, fellowship and our program ministries.

Luke, Chapter 12, summarizes our Lord's teachings on discipleship and stewardship, most especially verse 48, "From everyone to whom much has been given, much more will be required. And from the one to whom much has been entrusted, even more will be demanded." Earlier in the chapter, Jesus tells the parable of the "Rich Fool." This is a warning for those "who store up treasures for themselves, but are not rich toward God."

Our budget depends upon the sacrificial and generous financial contributions of our parishioners. Our pledges allow the Vestry to set a budget every year. Our gifts account for 95% of our budget. The rest is mostly Grace Episcopal School's donation toward property and utility expenses.

I hope 2014 will be a year of abundance for us at Grace Church. It starts with our pledges, offered, beginning on All Saints' Sunday, November 3. Let us be "rich toward God" through Grace Church.

Grace, Peace, Love,
The Rev. Robert H. Malm

About Grace Notes

Grace Notes is published 10 times a year by Grace Episcopal Church, Alexandria, Virginia – monthly except for combined July/Aug and Dec/Jan issues. The deadline for submitting copy is midnight on the 15th of the preceeding month.

The next Grace Notes deadline is November 15 for the November/December issue. Articles should be submitted by e-mail to grace.notes@gracealex.org. All articles are subject to editing.

Grace Church's newsletter team includes Amy Barron, Gary Carter, Kristine Hesse, June Huber, Lee Meeks, Teresa Preston, Sarah Schultz and Beth Wiggers.

From the Assistant to the Rector

I want to begin this month with a warm thank you to all who were involved in preparations for the Founders' Day Cabaret. The dinner and music were a grand success—as evidenced by the happy conversations, the music thoroughly enjoyed, and the full bellies at the end of the evening! The Haiti Mission Team members were energized by the enthusiasm the organizers and the parish guests showed for the trip and were humbled by the generous outpouring of financial support we have received.

The money raised will go in part to the various missions and ministries we will visit in Haiti this month. These include the Haiti Micah Project, the church of St. Peter in Mirebalais and its associated school, Partners in Health, the Fonkoze micro loan program, the Nursing School in Leogane, the Hospital Ste. Croix in Leogane, St. Vincent's Center for Handicapped Children, Port-au-Prince, and the Cathedral.

I found a beautiful quote in Horizons of Mission, by the Rev. Dr. Titus Presler, from the Anglican Congress of 1963. In their re-casting of their vision of mission, they wrote, "Our unity in Christ, expressed in our full communion, is the most profound bond among us, in all our political and racial and economic diversity...Mission is not kindness of the lucky to the unlucky; it is mutual, united obedience to the one God whose mission it is." I look forward to celebrating Eucharist with the church of St. Peter, praying with the Haiti Micah kids, sharing meals with Haitian Episcopalians, and celebrating the healing power of Christ's love with Grace Church upon our return.

Please keep us in your thoughts and prayers as we travel November 9 through 15. The Haiti Mission Team members are: Alexandra Barr, Jane Barr, Tracy Enger, Peregrine Enger, Mary Ann Ryan, Kemp Williams, Karen Wires, and me.

Peace,
Mother Leslie

Graceful Worship: The Calendar of Saints

Last month I wrote about our lectionary so, continuing on a theme, this month I will share with you (and further educate myself) about the Calendar of Saints.

The veneration of saints in the Episcopal Church began with the early Church. Our use of the term "saint" differs from Roman Catholic and Orthodox traditions in that we don't canonize individuals and we don't generally invoke saints as intercessors in prayer. Instead, we believe that all baptized Christians are saints of God and have the potential to be examples of faith to others. We pray for each other and for all Christians as members of the Communion of Saints, including both the living and the dead, since all are considered to be in the hands of God.

The first English Book of Common Prayer (BCP) retained a small number of feasts celebrated by the Roman Catholic church, but included no post-Biblical saints.

The 1662 BCP, used by Anglicans living in the American colonies, listed the names of 67 saints in its Calendar. The first American BCP (1789) listed no minor Holy Days (lesser feasts) in its Calendar, and that didn't change in either the 1892 or 1928 BCPs.

Things changed as a result of the General Convention of 1964, when more than 100 new saints' days were added and the book Lesser Feasts and Fasts—an official resource of the Episcopal Church—was first published. Since then, the number of saints in the Calendar has gradually increased, and Lesser Feasts and Fasts was updated on the average of every three years. The 2003 General Convention called for a significant revision of Lesser Feasts and Fasts that, among other things, would reflect cultural diversity, our ecumenical partners and local customs. This resulted in the development of Holy Women, Holy Men: Celebrating the Saints, which was approved for use in 2009 and added over 100 new saints. One example is G. A. Studdert Kennedy (March 8), a priest who served as chaplain to soldiers on the Western Front during World War

I, published poems based on his experience as a war chaplain, was a powerful influence on the pacifist cause, and inspired Desmond Tutu.

In most cases, two generations or 50 years from a person's death must elapse before that person can be added to the Calendar. If you want to learn more about the saints themselves, and the process by which the Episcopal Church adds individuals to the Calendar of Saints, pick up a copy of Holy Women, Holy Men. It's also available online in a couple of different places.

Our saints aren't models of perfection. They were flesh-and-blood men and women from various denominations and traditions, whose lives were shaped by God and who serve as examples of Christian faith and works. In many cases they held beliefs and positions that made them unpopular during the time they lived. As Paul wrote in 2 Corinthians 12:9, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness."

June Huber

Next Month's 65 years, 65 stories Question!

The Grace Notes team has been soliciting stories about Grace Church in honor of our 65th year on Russell Road. You may have noticed stories in previous issues relating to how people came to Grace Church and favorite parts of the church building. See page 7 in this month's issue for stories about mission and outreach. Next month's question is: What's one of your favorite memories of the Advent/Christmas season at Grace? Send your stories to grace.notes@gracealex.org by November 15 for inclusion in the Dec/Jan issue. We've only been averaging about 3-4 stories per month and we're hoping for at least 10 per month. Don't be shy! Even if you've already submitted a story, we'd love to hear from you again. It would be great if we started getting 20 stories a month. It would be a sign of a true Grace Church response!

Music Notes

Fall is one of my favorite times of the year. In addition to the (hopefully!) crisp fall weather and tastes and smells of fall cuisine, there is usually a lot of excitement on a musical level within the Church. The first big liturgical event following Founders' Day is All Saints' Sunday. On this occasion, we get to sing some of the best hymns of the faith, like For all the saints, O what their joy and their glory must be, and Who are these like stars appearing. If you have a few moments, check out the texts to these hymns. Here's a teaser from #632 (Hymnal 1982): "O what their joy and their glory must be, those endless Sabbaths the blessed ones see; crown for the valiant, to weary ones rest: God shall be all, and in all ever blest." Verse 1 is followed later by a stirring proclamation of hope in verse four: "Now, in the meanwhile, with hearts raised on high, we for that country must yearn and must sigh, seeking Jerusalem, dear native land, through our long exile on Babylon's strand." Wow.

On All Saints' Sunday, in addition to singing some fantastic hymns that express the best in theology of the Christian faith, at the 11:15 am Festival Eucharist, the Adult Choir will offer a choral setting of the Mass Ordinary, Missa brevis by Andrea Gabrieli (1532-1585), as well as anthems by Gerald Finzi (1901-1956) and Tomás Luis de Victoria (c.1548-1611). It will be a great morning!

Finally, it's never too early to mark your calendars for our Procession of Advent Lessons and Carols on Sunday, December 8. As fall moves into winter, I personally cherish the gorgeous music that arrives with Advent, followed later by the treasures of Christmas. There is much to be excited about as we go deeper into fall!

Elizabeth Locher Returns to Grace Church

I am thrilled to be returning to Grace Church to serve as Assistant for Parish Life and Family Ministries! My husband, Ben and I are happy to be back in Alexandria after our year teaching and serving in Tanzania through the Episcopal Church's Young Adult Service Corps.

I grew up in Glenview, Illinois just north of the city of Chicago, but I have lived in Virginia ever since I went to college at William and Mary, so coming back to Virginia after a year abroad feels like coming home. It was in my junior year at William and Mary that I first started to recognize a sense of call to the priesthood and began talking to the Diocese of Virginia about a discernment program called the Young Priests Initiative. I started experiencing church leadership by spending a summer leading worship services in Shenandoah National Park, as well as being involved in William and Mary's Episcopal campus ministry.

Before I entered Virginia Theological Seminary, I spent a year working at St. Luke's House in Silver Spring, Maryland for a supported employment program for people with mental illness. I really loved that work and the clients I worked with, but I had a deep desire to focus more on peoples' spiritual lives and relationships with God. It was a privilege to begin learning and experiencing that as a seminarian here at Grace Church, where I got to work with so many of you and learn about your many ministries and programs, particularly Christian Education and your Journey to Adulthood program.

After my seminary graduation, Ben and I felt called to go abroad and serve God with the Church in Tanzania. We had an incredible time teaching and serving at Msalato Theological College in Dodoma, which is actually the same school Mother Steffensen served at several years ago! I had the unusual experience of going straight from being a seminarian to being a seminary teacher. I taught Church History, Theology and New Testament, while Ben taught computers and maintained the school's computer system. I hope to bring some of the experiences I had in Tanzania into the ministries and programming I will be working with here at Grace.

Now that I am back at Grace I will be taking on responsibilities for Christian Education for all ages, evangelism and newcomer ministry, and pastoral care and worship. I am so glad to be back among you and I look forward to serving with you all!

*In Christ,
Elizabeth Locher*

The 4th & 5th grade Sunday School class will host a bake sale and food drive on Sunday, November 17, during the coffee hour following the 9:00 am service in Merrow Hall Auditorium. The children are putting the Gospel into action by raising money for Carpenter's Shelter and collecting non-perishable food items for the Grace Food Pantry. We hope the whole parish joins in supporting our youth and these important ministries.

65 Years, 65 Stories

This fall we celebrate Grace Church's 65th anniversary of moving to Russell Road. Grace Notes commemorates this exciting anniversary and our wonderful parish stories by asking a monthly question and publishing 65 answers/stories from the parish across the year.

Question 3: What's been one of your favorite experiences with doing mission or outreach work for Grace?

#10—from Barbara Read

Our first of three mission trips to Honduras was one of my favorite experiences. I had only been at Grace for a short while when I heard about the mission trip to Our Little Roses, a home for abandoned and abused girls in Honduras, and I signed up.

On the way to the girls' home from the airport, we saw small children wearing filthy clothing standing on a concrete island in the middle of the street. A little farther on there was a man pulling a donkey with its ribs prominently showing from lack of food. We passed a huge pile of garbage next to a river that was being picked over by several people.

The home itself is comprised of two main buildings, a parking area, and a covered play area. This compound is surrounded by a two-story concrete wall and a steel gate with a guardhouse next to it.

On our first day there we were taken for a bus ride just outside of the compound so that we could see the kinds of places where some of the girls had lived. This rutted, bumpy road was lined with dirt-floored hovels made of tin, wood, and whatever else the owner could find. The people who live in these dwellings get their water from the same polluted river that runs past the pile of garbage seen earlier.

In spite of the horrible poverty surrounding the home, the girls inside are well taken care of and most appear to be happy to be there, especially considering where they came from. One of my favorite memories of this trip was the day that the mission team brought out cosmetics and hairbrushes for a "girls makeup day." Both the girls and the team members had a wonderful time, not only putting makeup on each other, but also braiding the hair of team members (including the guys), and placing sparkly stuff on their faces over heavy layers of rouge. Our faces glowed!

#11—from John Berry

Mission trips with our EYC never lack for great moments for the adults. During the Alabama trip in 2012, the EYCs went to bed late, and no one was stirring at the wake-up call. Solution—try the Army way: Find Reveille on iTunes and put the cell phone next to their ears. It worked, but being threatened with bodily harm if we did it again, we didn't.

#12—from Barbara Read

I have really enjoyed serving dinner at Carpenter's Shelter with the Outreach team, which serves dinner at the shelter quarterly, as do three other groups at Grace.

In our case, casseroles are made on the Sunday before going to the shelter. On Tuesday, the team arrives at the shelter to complete preparations, serve dinner and clean up. As the team arrives people begin slicing and buttering rolls, making salad, and cooking vegetables. Everyone is racing around taking care of the many details involved in feeding sixty people. Forty-five minutes after the casseroles are put in the oven they are taken out with the cheese topping bubbling. By then, members of the team have finished preparing the rest of the meal and the announcement comes over the sound system that “Dinner is served!”

The people in the shelter have already begun forming a line, and they really appreciate the efforts of the team. Many come up to the counter to thank us for our efforts and tell us how much they enjoyed the meal. It is a real pleasure to be able to help these people who have nowhere else to go.

NEXT MONTH:

What’s one of your favorite memories of the Advent/Christmas season at Grace?

Please submit responses to grace.notes@gracealex.org by November 15.

We’d really like 20 (or more!) responses!!

Coming Up Roses—the Flower Delivery Ministry

Many of us who volunteer for the Flower Delivery Ministry do so in part because it has touched our lives before and we know firsthand what it means to be remembered in a time of pain or sorrow or possibly joy. We understand that it’s not just sharing the beauty of flowers, but extending the celebration of our Sunday services to embrace those who couldn’t be there in person. And we know from personal experience that little things matter—whether it’s the perfume of the flowers themselves, the message on the card, or the warmth of a visit from someone who cared enough to come over.

Ours is a wonderfully flexible ministry for those who have the time and availability to spend an hour or two on the occasional Monday morning; we welcome volunteers to join our roster of alternates. It’s also a potentially social affair; many of our volunteers have doubled up with friends and found it a highlight of their week to bring others joy while getting good and caught up! While some recipients may not be up for a chat, others—especially those who are housebound—appreciate a little company. And for those with a creative streak but no flex during the week—we would love to have you make cards or tags to accompany the bouquets.

We are grateful to all those who work behind the scenes to support flower delivery, in particular the Altar Guild members and church office volunteers who prepare the bouquets and coordinate the deliveries every week. And we’re grateful to be able to contribute in some way to touching others’ lives—often in ways we will never know. This was beautifully illustrated recently by a volunteer who delivered flowers for someone’s birthday and found out later that the flowers held special meaning because it was also the first anniversary of a loved one’s death. As in all things, we do our small part and trust that God will bless...and He does!

Dawn Alee Yerkes

Adult Forum Speaker—November 3

In conjunction with our Grace Church Haiti Mission Team's visit to Fonkoze in Mirebalais, Haiti, Leigh Carter, founder and Executive Director, FONKOZE USA, will speak at the Adult Forum on November 3.

An early career with Witness for Peace and human rights activism in Central America led Leigh to Haiti in 1991, where she was deeply motivated by the Haitian people, their culture, history and struggle for democracy. Leigh began working at the Washington Office on Haiti, the voice of the Haitian democracy movement, on Capitol Hill.

In 1996, Leigh learned about Father Joseph Philippe's dream of economic democracy for the poor of Haiti and of a "bank the organized poor could call their own." Father Joseph had been determined to build a bank national in scope that would provide the poor, especially women entrepreneurs (ti machann, or rural market women), with the financial, educational and development services they required to rebuild their own country and their own lives. His national bank organization, called Fonkoze (Fondasyon Kole Zepòl, a Haitian Creole phrase meaning "Shoulder to Shoulder Foundation,") had begun only two years earlier when he had recruited Anne Hastings, a Washington DC management consultant, to run the organization. Anne Hastings is mother of Corey Hastings, a Grace Church parishioner.

In response to Father Joseph's dream, Leigh founded Fonkoze USA, in 1997, a U.S. non-profit organization with the mission of raising funds and awareness for Fonkoze. By tapping into the alternative investment movement of the U.S. religious community, Ms. Carter quickly built a revolving loan fund that provided the initial microcredit loans to Fonkoze solidarity groups of Haitian ti machann. In the past 16 years, Fonkoze USA has leveraged millions of dollars in grants and loans for the work of Fonkoze in Haiti while serving as the voice for Fonkoze abroad.

In 2004, through combined efforts in the U.S. and Haiti, Fonkoze joined Zanmi Lasante, Dr. Paul Farmer's sister organization in Haiti to Partners in Health, to build a bank and a solar paneled hospital in Boucan-Carré, located in the central plateau near Mirebalais. In 2012, Fonkoze received the Top Nonprofit award given by Philanthropedia and a 2012 Youtube DoGooder award for its video Solid Women, the story of five Haitian women who used Fonkoze microloans to help rebuild their community after the earthquake. The video can be found by copying and pasting this link into your browser:

Grace Episcopal School News

Now is the time for parishioners to apply to Grace School for 2014/2015!

Founded in 1959, Grace Episcopal School provides an academically challenging and developmentally appropriate education for boys and girls aged 3 through the Fifth Grade—all in a nurturing and enriching environment. Our strong academic program emphasizes the critical tools of learning: reading, writing and mathematics. The curriculum is challenging and varied: rich in music, literature, art, history, religion, science and physical education. Spiritual development and moral values, plus service to others are emphasized both within the school community and beyond.

Our low student-teacher ratio permits personal attention to each child and provides the faculty with the freedom to inspire students to reach their maximum potential. Before and after-school care, as well as financial aid, are available.

Grace Episcopal Church parishioners receive a 10% tuition discount for their children. Please note that our application deadline is February 3, 2014. Grace School is holding our Fall Open House on Monday, November 11 from 9:30-11:30 am. For further information, or to schedule a school tour, please call Benita Cathey in the Admissions Office at 703-549-5067.

Benita Cathey

Please help Grace School by collecting and saving Box Tops. Every dime helps support our school. Are you asking yourself, “What is a Box Top?” A Box Top is a coupon on labels and packages of common grocery store items. It is hot pink like the logo above and surrounded by a dotted line. You can clip 10¢ Box Top coupons from hundreds of your favorite products such as Cheerios®, Betty Crocker®, Pillsbury®, Ziploc®, Kleenex®, Hefty®, Juicy Juice® and more!

Bring the Box Tops to the school office or slip under the door on Sunday. This is a great way to earn cash for Grace Episcopal School.
